BAND OF ASSASSINS.

Their Work Revealed by New Orleans Citizens.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE.

The Loss of Many Lives in the Crescent City Fully Accounted for by a Special Committee Appointed by the Mayor. Recommendations Made for the Repression of Such Occurrences.

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—The committee of fifty appointed by the mayor on the 4th of October last under a resolution of the city council to investigate the power of the existence of secret societies and bands of oath-bound assassins, which have taken many lives in the city, and to devise means and the most effectual remedies for the uprooting of these associations, yesterday submitted its final report, which is substantially as follows:

The chief work of the committee was to obtain a report of ninety-four assassinations by Italians and Sicilians, and why the accused escaped for the want of evidence. The results of the Hennessy trial demonstrated to the people that no one was safe from the mysterious band that was operating regardless of the law. It was only when this fear grew into absolute conviction that the people themselves rose in their might and took the law in their own hands. With the occurrences of that day the committee had no connection, nor did they have any knowledge of it.

The report then goes on to show the existence of the Mafia here, and says the Italian consul admitted the existence of that society to a sub-committee, which called on him and promised to furnish the names of its leaders and other information regarding it, but at the last moment it refused to do so, claiming that as it was an extra judicial body he did not feel warranted in giving the promised information.

The committee then suggests the following as possibly being the needful remedies to stamp out the evil:

First—The regulation of immigration.

Second—Reform in the criminal laws and administration of criminal justice.

Third—A law recognizing the existence of a bar association and endowing it with full powers to try and disbar any attorney whose evil practice renders him unworthy of being an officer of a court.

The report concludes: The only radical remedy by which suggests itself to us is the entire prohibition of immigration from Sicily and lower Italy. It was found necessary to prohibit Chinese immigration, and congress passed the necessary law. The danger to California from Chinese was no greater than the danger to this state from the Sicilian and southern Italians. We have had long experience with this people, and that experience has been a sad one. They are undesirable citizens, and there is no reason why they should be permitted to participate in the blessings of a free and civilization which they are not able to appreciate, but which they refuse to understand or accept.

Contract Labor Law Violated.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Eleven men, all Austrians, were detained at the barge office yesterday because they had been brought here under contract to work in Chicago, some for the Consumers Gas company and some for the City Cable company. They came here on the Noordland. Four of them were in charge of Giovanni Sissol and seven in charge of Andria Kopajrick. Both Sissol and Kopajrick have been employed by the above named companies in Chicago, and both have been back to their homes in Austria on a visit. In their affidavits made to Chief Contract Labor Inspector Mitchell, the two men stated that before they left here they were asked by their bosses to bring back men with them and to offer the men $1.50 a day. The entire party were barred from landing, but they will be held to appear as witnesses in court against the companies who will be prosecuted for bringing men into the country under contract to work.

Brazil is With Us.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Mail advices from Rio Janeiro bring news of the presentation to President Deodoro, of Brazil, of Capt. Alexander Rodgers, of the army, and Lieut. F. E. Sawyer, of the navy, the two special commissioners designated by the president of the United States to visit Brazil in the interest of the Columbian exposition. Each gentleman addressed President Deodoro in suitable terms and the latter replied, expressing his cordial good wishes for the success of the enterprise. He assured the commissioners that Brazil would be adequately represented at the exposition, but could not give any details until the required legislation had been obtained.

A Mass Meeting Will Decide.

DENVER, May 15.—The coroner's jury resumed the investigation of the death of Thomas Kelly at 9:30 yesterday, the first witness being Ed. Davis, one of the men who did the shooting. A number of other witnesses were heard, and then the jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from the effects of shotgun wounds inflicted by F. N. Davis and his party. As to whether $1 or only 2 cent the jury are unable to say. There will be a mass meeting of the trades union to take action in the matter.

No Truth in the Rumor.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The secretary of the Haitian legation says that the story of an attempt to assassinate President Hyppolyte, of Hayti, is ridiculous. That the cables in part order, and that attempts had been made the news would certainly have been sent to the legation. Jacmel, he said, was in the west, while President Hippolyte went around to the south via Las Cayes, from Aquin.

SECRETARY BLAINE'S CONDITION.

He is Growing Much Better and Will Soon Return to Washington.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Mr. Blaine is very much better this morning. He passed a good night and expects to sit up to-day. He expects to go to Washington on Saturday, but further than that his plans are not complete.

Mrs. Blaine said to a United Press reporter that it was barely possible that she and her husband would leave for Washington to-morrow. There are many important matters in the state department which require the secretary's personal attention, and for this reason Mr. Blaine is desirous of returning to his post in Washington as soon as possible. Mrs. Blaine favors the program of a visit to Washington, followed by a departure for the summer home at Bar Harbor.

A RECKLESS BARBER

Narrowly Misses Shooting a Young Lady at a Church Festival.

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., May 15.—Ed. Montgomery, a white barber, went into the Western Union telegraph office to see the operator Tuesday night, when the manager, Hugh Allen, ordered him out, saying no one was allowed behind the railing. Shortly after Allen crossed the street where a church supper was in progress. He was met by Montgomery who attacked him and drawing a pistol fired. The bullet missed Allen and imbedded itself in the wall close to the head of Miss Jessie Lain. Montgomery was arrested.

Trying to Sneak Out.

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—A committee of the grand jury called on Consul Corte yesterday, and asked him for the names of the plotters whom he alleged had intended to assassinate the mayor and others, but whose lives were saved through his mediation. The consul informed the committee that he had been misinterpreted by the newspapers. He had said there was a strong feeling among the Italians as in all other places in America, and he like other consuls, had used his best efforts in the interest of peace and quiet. Consul Corte will take his departure from the city tomorrow evening.

War Ship Saved.

LONDON, May 15.—Advices have been received here to the effect that the British war ship Undaunted, under command of Lord Charles Beresford, assisted by the British gun-boat Melita, after infinite difficulties, succeeded in saving the French man-of-war Seignelay, which was ashore at Jaffa, a town of Palestine, on the Mediterranean. The Seignelay was in a very bad position, and was almost about to be abandoned, owing to stress of weather.

After the Itata.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 15.—A dispatch from Acapulco has been received here to the effect that the Chilian cruiser Esmeralda has left that port after having requested several favors which were refused. The vessel is well armed and equipped. Her officers received telegrams from the United States and the vessel then sailed in a northerly direction, presumably to meet the Itata.

Taking the Strikers' Places.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., May 15.—A large number of new hands to take the places of the strikers arrived here last night. One of the strikers who came through with the new hands from Pittsburg, says that they will go to work in the places of the old hands. Yesterday was a sort of a moving day in the valley. Those who were dispossessed were moving their goods into the opera house.

Oil Works Burned.

PHILADELPHIA, May 15.—Shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday fire was discovered in the Belmont Oil works, at Point Breeze, as it is at this time supposed from an explosion. The fire is raging furiously, and it is believed will involve the destruction of the entire plant. The wires in that direction are all down, and it is impossible to obtain details.

Testing Smokeless Powder.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 15.—The Australian Mannlicher rifle has been subjected to a number of tests by the board of army officers at the United States armory here. Wetterin and Austrian smokeless powder were used. The tests were highly successful both for rapid firing and accuracy.

Murdered in a Tenement House.

JERSEY CITY, May 15.—A woman named Bridget Kaffron was murdered in the tenement, No. 161 Steuben street, at 5:30 yesterday evening. Her husband, who was bleeding from a wound on the head, told the police that his wife had been murdered by man named Kerrigan.

Freight Wreck.

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 15.—A serious freight wreck occurred on the Northern Central railway near Mahontonga yesterday afternoon, caused by a broken axle. No one is reported hurt, but over half the train, which was composed of oil and grain cars, is reported burned. Passenger trains are held at Sunbury.

Fire in a Brewery.

CINCINNATI, May 15.—A fire which started in the main wing of the malt room of the Christian Moerlein Brewing company last night did $50,000 damage. The loss is covered by insurance. Spontaneous combustion is supposed to have been the cause of the fire.

Orders to Solicitor General Taft.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 15.—In accordance with the orders of the attorney general to Solicitor General Taft, to be in Washington on the 25th, that gentleman will leave for the National capital on Monday next. His presence here, the solicitor general says, is not for the purpose of sounding the charge of the Robert and Minnie case, but to consult the district attorney.

FLYING HOMEWARD.

The Presidential Party En Route to Washington.

STOPPING PLACES ON THE WAY.

Thousands of People Welcome Him to the Capital of Illinois—The Lincoln Monument Visited—Back to His Home in Indianapolis—His Journey Almost Ended.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 15.—Thousands of visitors from neighboring towns helped the people of Springfield welcome President Harrison to the Flower City yesterday. Perfect weather and plenty of enthusiasm made the short stay of the distinguished guest a pleasant one, and excellent arrangements caused the reception to take place without a hitch.

At Springfield junction, a short distance from the city, Governor Fifer, Senators Cullom and Palmer, Congressman Springer, Mayor Lawrence and other prominent persons, met the president at 9:15 o'clock. Notice that the president had arrived at the station was given to the crowds in the streets by a precise denial salute fired by state troops. Carriages in waiting were placed in the center of a procession composed of National Guard organizations, Grand Army posts, Sons of Veterans and secret societies, and the president was escorted through the principal streets to the Lincoln monument, the organizations taking part in the procession, proceeding a part of the way in electric cars in order to let the carriages make better time.

A temporary stand at the monument accommodated the presidential party and their hosts during the exercises. Mayor Lawrence presided. Governor Fifer delivered an address of welcome to which the president made brief answer, which was received with enthusiasm by the several thousand people packed about the stand. This concluded the exercises, and the visitors were driven rapidly under an escort of mounted aides to the state house. Another great crowd surrounded the platform in front of the capitol. A few minutes were spent here, the president making brief remarks to the assembly, and carriages were again taken out for a drive. At the specified time the train left for Indianapolis at 10:30 o'clock.

At Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 15.—After a journey through Illinois marked by a continuous ovation, the last two receptions—those at Tuscola and Chrisman being particularly enthusiastic, President Harrison entered his own state shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and fifteen minutes later, at Montezuma, he was surrounded by many old friends who had come down from Indianapolis to welcome him home.

The Indianapolis contingent was composed of committees from every political society and business organization in that city. It consisted of 300 persons, representing the Hendricks club, the Gray club, the Columbia club and other political organizations, all state officers, judges of the supreme, appellate, Federal and county courts, all United States officers, all city officers and members of the municipal boards, all county officers and the county commissioners, representatives of all the fifty-two labor organizations in the city, officers of the state militia, delegates from the Commercial club and board of trade, the department commander and staff of the Grand Army with a representative from each post; representatives of the military order of the Loyal Legion, Union Veteran Legion and Sons of Veterans.

Governor Hovey, Senator Turpie, ex-Governor Gray, Lieutenant Governor Chase, Judge Woods, of the United States court, ex-Congressman Peele and Mayor Sullivan were among those in the party, and these with a number of others, mostly personal friends and neighbors of the president, accompanied him to Indianapolis, the others proceeding ahead in the train that brought them to Montezuma. A cheer went up from the Montezuma people and the Indianapolis representatives as the president came out on the platform of the observing car. He was presented to the crowd by ex-Congressman Johnson, and in a voice trembling with feeling made a brief speech.

During the twenty minutes stop at Montezuma the president shook hands with a large number of persons whom he knew. It was like a family reunion.

At Rockdale, the president received another enthusiastic welcome, but he did not address the crowd. The presidential train arrived in the Union station at 4:45 o'clock. Booming of cannon and shrieking of whistles announced the approach of their distinguished townsman to the Indianapolis people, several thousand of whom were assembled in and about the station. These broke into prolonged cheering as the president stepped from the platform with Governor Hovey. Escorted by the committee that met him at Montezuma, the president walked through the station to Jackson place, directly opposite, and took his place on a stand erected there. Thousands of people were crowded on all sides of the platform, and they cheered the president heartily. In response to addresses of welcome by Governor Hovey and Mayor Sullivan, the president made an elegant speech.

After brief speeches by Postmaster General Wanamaker and Secretary Rusk the president and party entered carriages and were escorted by military, political and other organizations through the principal streets around the circle and back to the Union station. Old friends cheered and waved handkerchiefs from the crowded side walks as the president's carriage passed along the line of march and many pushed past the policemen to grasp his hand. The applause was continuous from the beginning of the route to the end. Postmaster General Wanamaker received a cordial greeting from the letter carriers of the city who were massed in a body on one of the streets.

At the station hundreds of people pressed forward to shake hands with the president, and as the train drew out at 5:30 o'clock many rushed after the train, endeavoring to get a farewell grasp. A parting cheer burst from the concourse, and the president's brief visit to his old home was over. Mrs. Harrison and the ladies of the party did not leave the train and held an informal reception to many of their friends.

A DIPLOMATIC BOYCOTT.

Latin-American Representatives Ignored by the Europeans.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The Herald's Washington special says:

There is trouble in the diplomatic corps. The Europeans—to use a distinguishing term—have boycotted the Central and South Americans and no end of ill-feeling has resulted from it. For years the entente cordiale between the two factions has been severely strained. The Europeans affect to regard the representatives of the Latin-American republics as uncultured and socially inferior to them. The Latin-Americans, on the other hand, insist that the Europeans are jealous of the favors shown them by the people of the United States, and that this, and this alone, is the real cause of the difficulty.

This was the situation when the Pan-American congress assembled eighteen months ago. The purpose of the congress was to strengthen the relation of the several republics to each other and bring them into a close commercial and fraternal intimacy. The great states of Europe, which are interested in the rich trade of those countries, followed the sessions of the congress with deep interest, and when it was seen how strongly marked the preference of the South Americans was for the United States, the diplomatic representatives of Europe retaliated by organizing a social boycott against them. This, you must understand, is the story the South Americans tell.

They will tell you, also, if they feel they can talk with you confidentially, numerous instances which illustrate the truth of this statement. Quite recently, for example, the German minister gave a banquet to celebrate his birthday. All the members of the diplomatic corps were invited with the exception of the representatives from the Latin-American states.

On another occasion the secretary of a great continental power met the secretary of a certain South American legation. With some embarrassment he informed the latter of his personal regard for him, but begged, as a favor, that their future intercourse be limited to a strict observance of polite conventionalities and, nothing more. He frankly added that the prejudices of his European confreres against the Latin-Americans was so great that he dared not run counter to it, notwithstanding he did not share in these prejudices himself.

And so matters have gone on growing worse with each succeeding day, until a personal encounter between the hot-blooded young men of the respective factions is quite probable.

In fact, some of the South Americans feel so keenly the slight that has been put upon them that several of the number are talking of forcing a duel upon the Europeans as the only means of vindicating their honor. Whether they will do so or not is an open question. They are certainly angry enough to proceed to any extreme.

Steamers Collide.

LONDON, May 15.—At 11 o'clock last night off Europa Point, Gibraltar, near the spot on March 16 last, the ill-fated steamer Utopia sank, the British steamship Buccaneer bound from the Mediterranean for an English port collided with the Italian steamship Stura, Capt. Valli, bound from various Mediterranean ports for New York. The Stura had on board a large number of emigrants for the United States. A panic ensued, but the officers finally succeeded in restoring order. Investigation showed that the bows of the Stura had been stove, and that the starboard side of the Buccaneer had been badly damaged. No one was injured. Both steamers will remain until they can be repaired. The 850 emigrant passengers of the Stura will be sent to their destination on another steamer.

Boilermakers.

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—At yesterday's session of the Boilermakers' association, the report of the committee on the uniform inspection was adopted. It recommends that efforts be made to secure the passing of a National inspection law and in the event of a failure in that direction, the passing of state laws classifying boilers into four classes. It was decided to hold the next convention in Buffalo on the second Tuesday of June, 1892. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, James Lappan, Pittsburg; first vice president, Philip Rohan, St. Louis; second vice president, James Kinney, St. Paul; third vice president, Charles Kroschell, Chicago; treasurer, Richard Hammond, Buffalo; secretary, E. D. Meir, St. Louis.

The Czarewitch Better.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 15.—The government is in receipt of advices from the physician of the czarewich which announce that the imperial patient is making satisfactory progress toward complete recovery from the effects of the wound which he recently received. The Mikado and the various members of the imperial Japanese family, as well as the great state dignitaries, have been solicitous in their attendance on the czarewich and it is announced they will accompany him to Kobe on the bay of Hiogo, where he will board a Russian war vessel and depart for Vladivostock.

Buildings Burned.

HARDY, Neb., May 15.—Nine buildings in the heart of the business part of town were destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss, $5,000; insurance one-half.

TRAINS DELAYED.

Caused by a Strike of the Chicago Switchmen.

AN IMPORTANT LOCKOUT.

A Conference Held but No Conclusion Reached and the Prospects Are Good for a Long and Bitter Struggle—Various Other Dispatches Relating to Strikes and Other Labor Troubles.

CHICAGO, May 15.—At 9 o'clock Wednesday night a conference was held between General Manager Whitman, General Superintendent Sanborn and the division superintendents. It was agreed, after the work of the day had been freely canvassed, that affairs were in excellent shape, and it was decided to receive freight from eastern connections when business opened in the morning. Reports received from along the line by General Manager Whitman showed that the change was easily and quietly done.

In Milwaukee, the point next in importance to Chicago, the worst delays were experienced as only a two-thirds force was at work in the freight yards at that place. At all other points everything was moving smoothly.

Secretary Hall, of the Switchmen's association, received a message last night from President Sargent, of the supreme council of the United Order of Railway Employes, saying that the supreme council would meet here next Saturday to investigate the grievances of the discharged switchmen.

The circular announcing the discharge of the switchmen stated that in reorganizing the switching service, preference would be given to such men previously employed as were, in the judgment of the company, capable and worthy, otherwise their positions would at once be filled by other men arranged for. Quite a number availed themselves of the offer and went to work with the new men, and the company claims that with its new force it has been able to handle all its passenger and suburban business and perishable freight.

About 200 policemen are stationed at different points in the city. About fifty men of this force were stationed at each of the North avenue and Wood street yards, the most threatening points. The precaution of massing a larger force at these two points than at any other proved a wise one, as mobs of angry switchmen assembled at both places. They were excited and demonstrative but refrained from any serious outbreak, being apparently over-awed by the superior force of police.

The company claims that it is being supported by all the orders belonging to the Federation of Railway Employes except the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association. All train men are doing the work of the discharged switchmen. A committee representing the men who were discharged called on General Manager Whitman yesterday and asked for a conference looking toward an adjustment of the trouble. The conference lasted some time.

In regard to the action of the Northwestern Railway company in discharging the men, Secretary Hall last night denied the statement made by the officials of that road that the men had broken the constitution and by-laws of the United Order of Railway Employes or of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association.

Dispatches from Fort Howard, Escanaba, Baraboo, Milwaukee, Winona, Council Bluffs, Boone and Des Moines, state that the new men are working well.

"This is not a fight directed against unions, nor is it instituted for any question of wages," said President Marvin Hughitt, of the road, "but a simple matter of discipline." For the last two years the officials of this road have been humiliated by its employes. We now propose to ascertain who is running the Northwestern railroad. As to our plan, all I can say is that it has been well arranged, and I feel confident of success."

Ohio Miners' Strike Settled.

COLUMBUS, O., May 15.—The trouble between the Ohio coal miners and operators is finally settled. Both parties to the controversy were anxious to avert a strike and the feeling led to mutual concessions. There was a thorough discussion of the entire situation and the operators succeeded in convincing the miners' representatives that they were not in position to grant the demands. The latter, willing to make concessions in the interest of harmony, modified their claims. The miners at last conceded all their demands except that with regard to the price of turning rooms, which remains the same as entry work, $7 or $8 per room. This increases the total cost of coal only four-fifths of a cent a ton.

Indiana Miners Idle.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 15.—The trouble among miners in this section of the state is not yet over and the prospects are not very bright for an early settlement. Many factories here are closed on account of scarcity of coal. The bituminous operators and miners have had a joint scale committee together for the past twenty-four hours in this city. Both sides are decided and the result cannot be guessed. The miners hold out for seventy cents per ton and the operators refuse to pay more than sixty-five cents. Yesterday the block coal miners were in mass-meeting at Brazil. Seven thousand miners are idle in this section.

Affairs at Omaha.

OMAHA, May 15.—The Northwestern road discharged the Union switchmen employed in its Council Bluffs yards yesterday, and filled their places with brakemen and transition men. About 100 switchmen on the Iowa division have been dropped. The officials say they will reemploy the old men if they do not insist on the switchmen's union being recognized. There was no trouble at Council Bluffs and none is looked for.

Strike in Brussels.

BRUSSELS, May 15.—The iron workers and other employes of the electric machinery manufacturers have gone out on a strike. Soon after the strike was inaugurated a mob assembled, smashing the lights of the electric light companies. The crowd was promptly followed up by the gendarmes, who succeeded in placing twenty of them under arrest.

Lumber Dealers Out.

NEW YORK, May 15.—There are ninety-two lumber dealers now banded together in the lumber trade association, nearly all shops having joined the lockout. Over 1,200 housesmiths were paid their strike money yesterday. The framers are still keeping the strike up. The combination of strikes seems to have paralyzed the building trade.

Drank Aconite.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., May 15.—At Stanford, this county, yesterday, J. A. and Samuel Riley, of that place, and Berry Fowle, of Monticello, took drinks from a bottle which they supposed contained whisky, but which was filled with aconite. In a short time J. A. Riley was dead, and it is now believed that the other two will die.

ON THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

State of Affairs as Reported by the Last Steamer.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—The steamer Alameda arrived from Sydney via Samoa and Honolulu yesterday, bringing the following advices:

The natives of several districts are still harping on the kingship question and raising feeling against King Malieton and in favor of Mataafa, notwithstanding the remonstrances of the chief justice.

The two chiefs charged with sending messengers asking for a meeting of chiefs in the interest of Mataafa or some other chief to to the kingship of Samoa, were both convicted and sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

Foreign consuls have requested the American government to send a war ship to Samoa, and the Charleston is reported to have been ordered there.

The Queen of the Hawaiian Islands has started on a tour of her kingdom, and will be gone about six weeks.

Fatal Shooting Affray.

HELENA, Mont., May 15.—News has reached here from Red Lodge, Mont., of a fatal shooting affair on Pat O'Hara creek, just over the line of Wyoming. Fred Caillette, a young ranchman, and Hank Chapman, a wealthy rancher, had trouble over the killing of Chapman's sheep by dogs. The men met on the prarie, and Caillette, who was mounted, dropped to the side of his horse and ordered Chapman to throw up his hands. Chapman replied with a shot from a Winchester rifle, the ball going through the body of the animal, killing it, and then breaking Caillette's arm. Chapman then fired two more shots in the prostrate man and hunted up Justice Pence and gave himself up. Caillette was found in a dying condition by sheep herders, and carried to Red Lodge.

Fire in a Tenement House.

NEW YORK, May 15.—About 10 o'clock last night fire was discovered in the tenement house, No. 1040 Third avenue. Bridget Clark, 17 years old, a servant, was burned to death, and three others were slightly burned. All the tenants escaped, and the Clark girl was on a fire escape and would have been rescued but she went back to her room for some clothing and was caught by the flames and burned to death. The loss will be about $5,000.

Only International Law.

ROME, May 15.—In the chamber of deputies, yesterday, Premier Rudini said that the New Orleans issue was simply a question of international law. The departure of Baron Fava had been ordered as a protest against the course of the United States in rejecting responsibility for the outrage. The sympathy of Europe was with Italy and Italy still hoped for a friendly settlement of the difficulty. Italy would maintain the triple alliance as a guarantee of the peace of Europe.

Oil Tanks Burned.

PHILADELPHIA, May 15.—Five tanks containing many thousands barrels of oil, the shipping house where it was stored, the cooperage and store house and 3,000 empty barrels were burned by fire at the Belmont oil works yesterday afternoon. The loss is estimated at $40,000.

Settlers Missing.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I have found nothing else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced. It seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the stomach and Bowels.

Illustrated Tours.

The first two nights of next week there will be given at Music Hall a series of illustrated journeys around the world, by Mr. Frank J. Kellogg, assisted by Miss Jennie McKell. The program will consist of London, its towers and cathedrals, a complete tour through the great British museum, Scotland, Ireland, France and the gay metropolis with its vast Louvre museum, showing miles of gilded saloons and galleries filled with relics of the old time rulers of Europe. Rome, its rivers, temples and catacombs. The Buffalo Courier has the following to say of the entertainment:

"A truly extraordinary entertainment, at an extraordinary low price of admission. The Kellogg Illustrated Tour of World, together with the brilliant illustrated poems rendered by Miss Jennie McKell packed the opera house for the second time last night. It is one of the few first-class entertainments traveling."

The prices will be 15 and 25 cents.

A Marvelous Exhibition.

A wonderful exhibit is to be seen in the Fite block, east Center street. It is called the Air Queen and to be appreciated and realized it must be seen. A fine young lady arises in the air in front of the audience, and without touching her feet and hands upon anything, she performs many evolutions in a very wonderful and graceful manner. What supports her no one knows, as no wires or anything of any kind can be seen. The power used by this young lady is certainly new and mysterious. Nothing ancient about this fine performance, just from Paris, France. Thousands of people of Ohio have seen it already, and among them were some who pretend to know all about such things. They all come away as much in the dark as when they go, and no one yet has been able to explain this great mystery.

Puzzling Fire.

A phenomenon is puzzling the residents of Castalian Springs, Miss., just now. On the top of a high pile of earth is a spot about three inches in diameter, from which issues forth every clear sunshiny day, between the hours of 11:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m., blue smoke, which is immediately followed by a bright, hot flame of similar hue. The spot presents no appearance different from any other barren spot on earth, with the exception of the burnt earth, caused by the fire. The charred looking dirt surrounding the center to the depth of one-fourth of an inch can be removed, but the center remains black, hard and almost impenetrable.

This strange freak was discovered by a workman over a week ago, and has been since watched daily. It is evident that the sun is a magnet in this instance, as the eruption does not occur when the weather is cloudy. Often when the sun is covered there is smoke, but no flame. If a continuance and further developments occur a geologist will be called to investigate.—Exchange.

Knew Her Papa.

This morning little B——, five years old, heard for the first time the tragic poem of Beth-Gelert, wherein the dog, left to guard his master's child, saves its life by killing the wolf which attacks it. Poor Gelert, covered with blood from his fierce battle, is stabbed by his master on his return, for he fancies the blood is that of his child, and finds, when all too late, the dead body of the wolf under the child's bed. The little boy listened to the story with absorbing interest, but his cheeks flushed, his eyes filled and his lips quivered at the sad ending. To divert his attention I tried to show the master did not mean to be cruel, and said, "If your papa should come in and think his dog had killed you, wouldn't he kill the dog?" "Oh! no," came the quick reply, "my papa's afraid to touch a gun."—New York Tribune.

Just What Keeley, the Motor Man, Is Doing

I am making a sympathetic harness for the polar terrestrial force—first, by exciting the sympathetic concordant force that exists in the corpuscular interstitial domain, which is concordant to it; and, second, after the concordance is established, by negativing the thirds, sixths and ninths of the concordance, thereby inducing high velocities with great power by intermittent agitation, as asserted with the dominant thirds. Again, take away the sympathetic latent force that all matter is impregnated with, the connective link between the finite and the infinite would be dissociated, and gravity would be annulled, thereby bringing all visible and invisible aggregates back into the great etheric realm.—Interview with Keeley.

A new pianoforte keyboard, having six rows of keys, has recently been exhibited in Manchester, England. An octave is formed by six keys in each of three rows. All the keys are on the same level, and each note is separated from the next by an interval of two semitones.

Strong Approval.

The Rev. Mrs. Hemstead Paxton, Omaha writes: "Took a very severe cold which settled on my lungs, which became very much affected, and I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I used two physicians, but it grew worse and my friends gave me up. Was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I was a mere skeleton and my friends were all of the opinion I was hopeless. When they persuaded to try your Pectoral. After one day's use I had the best rest for five months, and after using one bottle coughing ceased and I commenced another being and four bottles I was restored to good health, and we now consider it the grandest medicine on earth.

A Summer Outing for Working Girls.

Another charitable organization, the purpose of which is to give to entire families opportunity to enjoy fresh air, has come into existence. A society has been incorporated with the name of the "Gilbert A. Robertson Home." It was formed under the terms of a devise of about $125,000 made by the will of the late Mrs. Gilbert A. Robertson. The trustees for the first year are William Nelson Blakeman, Jr., Elliott Smith, Charles D. M. Cole and S. Sidney Smith, of New York, and E. Clarence Hovey, of Brookline, Mass.

The home has purchased about seventeen acres of land a short distance north of Yonkers, on the high ridge of ground between the Hudson and Bronx rivers. The property includes a large house and outbuildings. There it is proposed to give to poor families, free of expense, short periods of rest and recreation. While the fund provided is a large one, it has been deemed advisable to receive public contributions, and those wishing to aid the charity may do so by becoming associate, active or life members or patrons.—New York Recorder.

Elopers Met with a Shotgun.

There was a little wedding at Caraway Springs, Tenn., Sunday night, and as a result two fond hearts are happy and a stern father is further angered. Charley Wright has been forbidden the entree of Henry Williamson's house, whose daughter, Louisa Williamson, was the object of young Wright's affections. After much coaxing the old man still withheld his consent, but Charley got a license and resolved to steal the girl. Old Henry heard of this and shut the girl up for a month.

Sunday night, at church, the old man stayed behind to talk to the preacher, when Wright grabbed her and rushed to Esquire Armstrong's and the two were married. They then went to see the father next morning, but he stood in the door with a double barreled shotgun and ordered them not to come inside.—Cor. Louisville Courier-Journal.

Deadly Poison on Coins.

The many friends of Miss Clara Meredith will regret to learn of her death. Miss Meredith was the daughter of Edward Meredith, and was cashier and bookkeeper at the Bates House.

About ten weeks ago she became ill, and while the physicians were unable to determine the exact nature of her disease, it was supposed to be blood poisoning, the result of handling a large amount of coin. Miss Meredith had the common habit of rubbing her fingers across her face and ear, and as an eruption appeared on those parts which soon spread throughout her entire system, it is thought that impurities from the coin were communicated to her system.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Two Buildings in a Race.

There was a lively race between the crews moving the two buildings from the May foreon Court street, in Auburn. It so happened that the route of both stores was down Main street, and the buildings were of the same size. Captain Cain started his building a day and a half after the other had left the location on Court street, and by lively work and with plenty of apparatus he overtook it at the Park House. Here Captain Cain says it is jokingly demanded the right of way and the other fellows turned their building into Academy street and left him pass.—Lewiston Journal.

John Crissinger has purchased through Chase & Hunter's agency the D. S. Humphrey property on west Center street, paying therefor $3500. Mr. Crissinger will improve the property and make it his residence.

The C. H. V. and T. Railway company has been annoyed more or less at this place by petty thefts that have occurred in the local yards, and another of this character was committed Thursday night. A box car standing on the siding was broken into and a small amount of cutlery extracted from a box within. The amounts taken are always small, but the act of breaking the seals will justify severe punishment if the parties are caught.

The dry goods clerks are making a move to secure an earlier closing hour four nights of the week, at 6 o'clock, excepting Saturdays and Mondays. Four of the dry goods houses have already approved of the plan and it is hoped by the clerks to secure an unaminity of action in the matter. Marion is large enough for early closing and the idea is popular. There is no reason why the mercantile classes should labor longer than the average.

THE OHIO BANKING CO

A Proposed New Banking Institution for Marion, with $200,000 Capital.

For the past week there has been a little quiet talk of a new banking institution for Marion, but until today the matter has not taken a definite form to permit of newspaper notice.

The project is in the hands of C. G. Harraman, of the firm of Quigly, Harraman & Tuttle, of New York, but a life long resident of Marion county. Associated with him in promoting the enterprise is U. K. Guthery.

A prospectus of the proposed bank states that it will be an incorporated institution with a capital stock of $200,000, organized under the laws of Ohio. This, by the way, makes it very similar to a national bank, giving depositors practically all the safeguards of the latter. The great Salmon P. Chase drew both the national and Ohio laws, and it is a matter of fact that the restrictions are similar in both.

The new bank is meeting with unusual favor, indeed Mr. Harraman expresses the fact that it is more favorably received than he expected. It has several elements of popularity. In the first place Marion has no incorporated bank. In the second it will have a savings department, a feature that is so much in favor that a savings bank alone has been frequently talked of. Lastly it will add capital to Marion to supply the demands of a business and manufacturing city and a large farming community surrounding. Notwithstanding the local banks strength they have never been able to supply the demand for money, even in the very gilt-edged class of borrowers. Both farmers and manufacturers have been compelled to seek ready cash outside the county or state. With additional banking facilities these parties can be accommodated at home. The new bank is to be made up of local capital and local officers and the fact that most of the best business men in the county are favorably interested gives the assurance that it is a go.

OFF A LADDER.

Al Himmeger Falls a Distance of Twenty Feet and Receives Serious Injuries.

Al Himmeger met with an accident this morning which may prove most serious. He was working on the new two-story dwelling house being erected on the hill for John E. Berringer, and while carrying a hod of brick up a ladder received a frightful fall. He had reached the top of the ladder, a height of about twenty feet, when it turned with him, and Himmeger, the brick and ladder were precipitated to the ground together.

The man's injuries were examined by Dr. Rhu, who found a deep cut on the right side of the skull three and a half inches long and a severe contusion of the scalp, while the whole left side was badly bruised. The back was also injured very painfully, to what extent it is not possible to tell as yet, but there are probabilities of worse results than might be expected.

Himmeger was taken to his home on Franconia avenue, in East Marion. He is a heavy man and the fall was consequently a hard one and frightful to those who witnessed it.

BANQUETING PYTHIANS

The Members of Canby Lodge, No. 51, Give an Enjoyable Entertainment and Banquet.

The Knights of Pythias of Canby Lodge, No. 51, achieved a pleasing success in their entertainment and banquet Thursday night. With a kindly courtesy the Odd Fellows tendered the Knights the use of their elegant lodge room and banquet hall, and thither did the merry guests wend their way. At 9 o'clock an assemblage of about one hundred Knights and ladies and their guests had assembled, and at this time the happily arranged program of exercises that were to precede the banquet, were begun.

Messrs. Uhler, Leffler, Waddel and Woodard sang the opening selection, "Welcome," and did it so nicely that it was welcome indeed. Dr. Weeks followed with the Address of Welcome, assuring the ladies especially that the Knights were much pleased that there were at times occasions when the fair sisters might be present to lend their bright and cheerful influences.

Miss Alice Edwards, with Miss Davis as accompanist, then gave a pleasing vocal solo, "Farewell Genevieve," and her delighted hearers expressed their approval in hearty applause. Her solo was followed by a delightful recitation by Miss McKell, of Buffalo, a charming elocutionist who appears in the Kellogg entertainments at Music Hall next week. Miss McKell gave a stirring rendition of "Jane Conquest" and her hearers were enthusiastic in their applause.

The Ladies Quartet—Mrs. J. H. Criswell, Mrs. R. Wallace, Miss Thew and Miss Stose—gave "The Old Folks at Home," a selection that was excellently rendered and added much to the pleasure of the assemblage. Following the quartet Miss Ethel Downing greatly amused all hearers with her recitation of "Betsy and I are Out." The selection was a dialect pattern after Carleton's famous poem of the same title. The little lady acquitted herself well.

The next selection was a vocal quartet by the gentlemen, a well received rendition of "Annie Laurie." Miss McKell consented to appear again and gave a humorous selection, "The Bald Headed Man," an ordinary newspaper sketch embellished with the art of a trained elocutionist. Much laughter was provoked.

Miss Edwards gave another solo, "Waiting," even better than the first, and the Ladies' Quartet sang again, so acceptably indeed that they were compelled to respond to an encore.

Fred Stengle recited Frank Dumm's newspaper sketch of the candidate who had been telling his wife of taking 233 degrees in Masonry. The sketch was highly appropriate to the occasion, a real hit with the ladies, and Mr. Stengle acquitted himself nicely in rendering it. Another vocal selection by the Ladies' Quartet closed the program that preceded the banquet, and the Knights and ladies abandoned themselves to a social mingling during the interim awaiting the call to the tables.

At ten o'clock Col. W. C. Rapp and lady led the procession to the banquet hall and more than seventy persons sat down to the inviting tables. There was not capacity to serve all at once, but those who brought up the rear were as nicely served as though they had been at the head of the procession. The banquet was provided by the Busy Bee Caterers and they not only provided an excellent feast but it was nicely served.

When the tables were deserted those present again congregated in the main hall and an hour was pleasantly spent in responses to toasts, all of an impromptu nature, however. Several responses had been promised the committee on program, but regrets took the place of responses. Col. Bruce, of Mt. Gilead, could not be present on account of illness. Mr. Frank J. Kellogg responded very happily to "Knighthood" and greatly interested his hearers. He knows what knighthood is and spoke fluently.

Following him there were perhaps twenty brief responses, entertaining and interesting because they were wholly impromptu, and the themes were as diversified as the speakers were numerous. To refer to them all and to allude to the happy bits would require more space than is at command. It is sufficient to say that he who thinks Canby is without orators is mistaken.

A very pleasing vocal selection, "Good Night," by the male quartet, was the finale to an affair that all present seemed to greatly enjoy. More such occasions would tend to popularize the secret societies. At any rate Canby achieved a success, so ably assisted as they were by those who made up the program of entertainment.

The hall decorations by Blake as well as the plants that adorned the tables were much admired and the effects added a charm to the surroundings.

Important to Soldiers.

The ruling of the bureau of pensions heretofore prohibiting members of United States Boards of Examining Surgeons from making affidavits in pension claims, when they have rendered soldiers treatment, has been abrogated, and members of such boards can now make affidavits in any claim where they have rendered treatment. When a physician says he cannot make an affidavit because he is a member of a pension board he does not tell the truth and he knows it.

Rehearsal, Dixie.

There will be a rehearsal this, Friday, evening. All members of the cast are requested to be present at 8:15 sharp.

The Educated Horses Tonight.

Tonight Prof. Bristol and his school of educated horses will make their initial bow to a Marion audience, and Music Hall should be crowded on the occasion. Prof. Bristol has his horses educated to such a degree of perfection that each is taught not only what he is to do as his portion of the program, but also some of the feats performed by the others, so in case one is sick and unable to appear from any cause whatever, the Professor can call upon another horse to do his work. This not only shows the versality of Prof. Bristol's horses, but demonstrates that as an educator of the horse, he excels all others.

Prof. Bristol's entertainment is given by his horses exclusively; it is horse all through, no dogs, goats or monkeys are seen upon the stage and no variety acts are given to lengthen out the program. The performance occupies about two and a half hours and has been and can be witnessed by the most refined and cultured clergymen and others, whose conscience will not permit them to enter a circus or theatre, do not hesitate to attend the performance given by Prof. Bristol's horses. Saturday afternoon the performance will be repeated and Saturday night will close the engagement.

Felty Invites Inspection.

Enough has already been said of the slaughter houses of Marion, but I will yet say that my slaughter house is yet as it was when the board of health made its nauseative trip to the slaughter houses and discovered their awful sights. I am willing and would be glad to have my customers and any others that would like to visit my slaughter house and see for themselves if there are any evidences that the public had been sold meat that none would have eaten had all particulars been known. Come and see for yourself if there is any disease breeding matter or filth that would send a nauseating odor to Heaven or even to the city of Marion.
150t2 C. H. FELTY.

The Big Four Appraisement.

Auditor Clark joined a meeting of the auditors along the line of the Big Four railroad, at Cincinnati, Wednesday, which was held for the purpose of appraising the stock of that company. The main track was appraised at $13,000 per mile; sidings, $2000; rolling stock, $2700; moneys and credits, $62. The valuation of the main track was increased $1000 per mile, which will make a difference in this county, where it runs 29 miles, of $29,000. There was considerable objection to this on the part of the company. The appraisement of rolling stock at $2700 per mile is considered very low.

PEACEFULLY TO REST

William H. Robinson Is Called to His Heavenly Reward After a Long Siege of Consumption.

No man could be more esteemed or loved than William H. Robinson, and for that reason his death comes with much sorrow, despite it was not unexpected. Mr. Robinson died at about 7:30 Thursday evening. He had been failing slightly during the day, but he realized it not and only an hour before he breathed his last he confidently assured a calling neighbor that he would get off to a sanitarium next week and soon regain his health. But the dark angel called and an humble christian spirit responded without complaint.

Deceased was 49 years old. When a vigorous and stout young man he went to serve his country in the war of the Rebellion and the rough life of a soldier impaired a previously robust health and left a wreck of his former self. But he managed his farm in Salt Rock township until some six years ago, when he came to Marion. Life was dear and his health at times was such as to give him hopes for many years of enjoyment, but the influenza took a hold on his system and hastened consumption. For eight months he fought for health, hopeful to the last, but today a bereaved family of wife and six children mourn a heavy loss.

Deceased was a devoted member of the M. E. church. The funeral, however, will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Free Baptist church, Rev. W. P. Hale officiating, owing to the absence of Rev. K. Wallace.

Assaulted in a Trench.

W. H. Baker, who is employed by the sewer contractors in excavating, went before Mayor Dudley Thursday afternoon and swore out a warrant for the arrest of a colored fellow named J. H. Jones, charging him with assault. Jones is also working in the sewer trenches, and the trouble between the two men arose while at work Thursday forenoon. Baker had picked up a shovel to work with which belonged to the colored fellow, not knowing it was his, but returned it when he learned it belonged to Jones. The latter became much incensed, however, and while Baker was down in a trench he jumped upon his back and struck him on the neck, injuring him somewhat.

Policeman Masterson placed Jones under arrest Thursday afternoon, and his employers vouched for his appearance before the mayor at 7 o'clock in the evening, when he was fined $4.90 and released.
